TITUS 3:1-7

Remind them to be submissive to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready for every good work, 2 to speak evil of no one, to avoid quarreling, to be gentle, and to show perfect courtesy toward all people. 3 For we ourselves were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, slaves to various passions and pleasures, passing our days in malice and envy, hated by others and hating one another. 4 But when the goodness and loving kindness of God our Savior appeared, 5 he saved us, not because of works done by us in righteousness, but according to his own mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit, 6 whom he poured out on us richly through Jesus Christ our Savior, 7 so that being justified by his grace we might become heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

Discussion Questions:

1. Do you think it is important for the world around you to see the impact that Christ has made in your life? Why or why not?
2. In what ways does understanding who you once were influence your behavior and interactions with others today?
3. How do you personally respond to the description of who Paul says you were (v3) before knowing Christ?
4. When was the last time you found yourself speaking evil or slandering someone? Did you repent, or did you justify your words? What does this reveal about your heart?
5. Are you more known for your gentleness and courtesy, or for your sharp tongue and critical spirit?
6. How can you actively demonstrate gratitude in your daily life when you reflect on everything Christ has done?
7. How could you use Titus 3:1-7 to encourage others in your life who may be struggling with their identity in Christ?
8. Do you believe that God truly cares for you? What comfort do these verses give us when considering the goodness and loving-kindness of God?
